EMPOWERING INTIMATE WELLNESS

Next Generation Outpatient Procedure for Women Health

According to the studies approximately 40% of women suffer from some form of stress urinary incontinence in their lifetime.

Almost 60-80% of women over age 45 will experience atrophy.

Conservative treatments such as pelvic floor muscle therapy (Kegel exercises) often fail because of patients' lack of compliance. Surgical options, although effective, suffer from a high rate of adverse effects and are typically a patient's last resort.

Estrogen deficiency causes physical changes of the vulva, vagina.

Vaginal discomfort and urinary incontinence can also occur in peri-menopause and after childbirth .

These can include vaginal dryness, burning, irritation, lack of lubrication, painful intercourse, and urinary symptoms of urgency, painful urination & urinary tract infections.

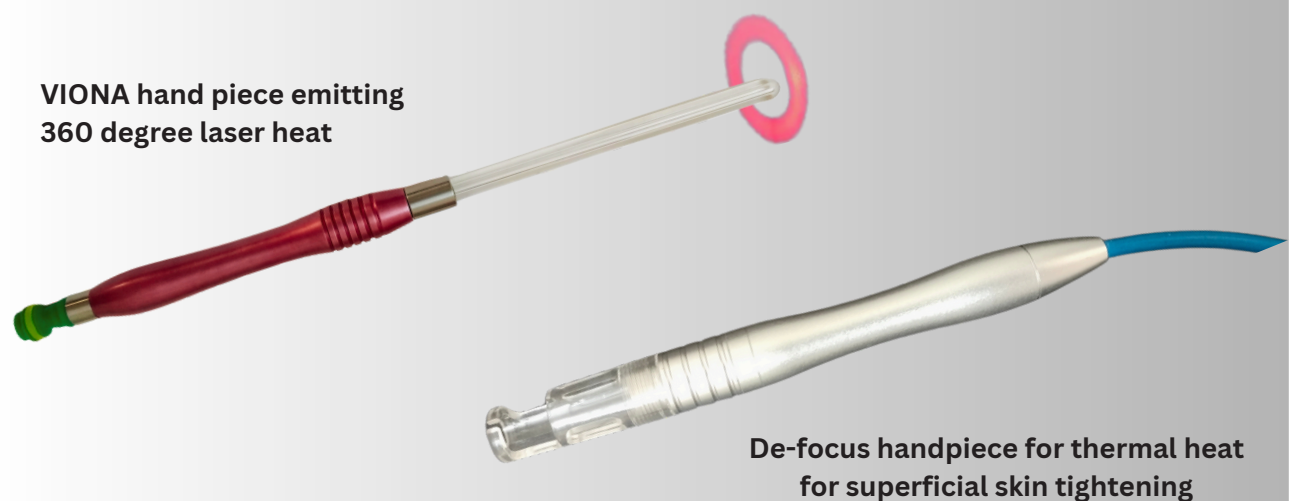

These symptoms are chronic in nature and may worsen with time jeopardizing sexual function and the quality of life.

VIONA™ is the new and advanced solution for in-clinic vaginal treatments. It is a none ablative in-office treatment with deep thermal effect providing solution to a wide range of indications from vaginal atrophy, mild to moderate urinary leakages to restore normal functionality, perri & post-menopausal symptoms, GSM and more.

Benefits of VIONA™

- 1470nm laser energy causes heating of the vaginal tissue and stimulates collagen rejuvenation
- As a result, the collagen fibers become shorter and thicker
- Heating of the collagen in the vaginal wall causes its immediate contraction
- Consequently as the collagen regenerates the irradiated tissue contracts and shrinks
